

UTAH TRIP JUNE 2012: TRIP REPORT PART 3 OF 4

Monument Valley, Natural Bridges National Monument, Muley Point, Moki Dugway, Dead Horse Point

HDR Panorama from the drive through Monument Valley; the HDR was pieced together from 24 photos. I think the “eerie” look of the photo is from all the dust that was in the air from the wind:

The next day we went to Natural Bridges National Monument and hiked the loop to see all three bridges. This is a HDR photo (actually four photos pieced together since my camera is not wide-angle enough) of the first bridge, Sipapu:

Another four-piece HDR photo, this one of the second bridge, Kachina:

The third bridge, Owachimo:

The Moki Dugway, part of the road between Natural Bridges National Monument and Medicine Hat:

HDR Panorama from Dead Horse Point:
